

Dear Parents/Guardians,

Here at The Pantry, we take extra care towards the health and wellbeing of all students across all our schools.

This is why every single one of our Pantry Catering kitchens operate in a completely nut free environment. So, there is no risk at all that any meal, directly served by us, can become contaminated with nuts!

Our best advice for all Parents/Guardians with students that do have an allergy to nuts, would be to ensure the school is aware of the allergy and an EpiPen is provided (if necessary) to the school's medical department. Although we do not have nuts directly in our kitchens, ingredients or meals, another student's packed lunch from home may contain nuts. By taking precautionary measures, such as increasing awareness and providing an EpiPen to the school, this decreases the risk of any severe reaction occurring.
